1962 TROJAN

Athens High School, Athens, Georgia

FOREWORD

The fifteen hundred students of Athens High School are the scientists, businessmen, mothers, and teachers of tomorrow. With a look toward the future and an increasing awareness of the world and its problems, these students have begun to face the responsibilities of citizenship.

The 1962 TROJAN is centered on the lives of great contemporary citizens, so that each Athens High School student might be inspired to model his own life for greatness.

"And so, my fellow Americans: ask not what your country can do for you — ask what you can do for your country.
My fellow citizens of the world: ask not what America will do for you, but what we together can do for the freedom of man." J. F. Kennedy

These words from President Kennedy's inaugural address strike the minds and hearts of all Americans. They are an inspiration to pause in this age of super speed to reflect upon the very foundations of our great heritage . . .

. . . foundations upon which to build a citadel of freedom which will withstand the ravages of time and strife for eternity, so long as we continue to build with pure mortar . . .

. . . a mortar made of high morals, belief in a Supreme Being, and the realization that freedom is the dearest possession of mankind . . .

. . . without which, this great citadel will crumble and become the gravestone of a decadent civilization, one which lost its perspective and its sense of true values.

We the students of Athens High School, as Americans and as members of the human race, must realize the tremendous responsibility we have to our God, our country, and our fellow man and strive to help perpetuate and protect this divine gift of freedom.

We pay tribute to President John F. Kennedy as the symbol of the energy and dedication that transcends the value of pounds of thrust, megatons of destructive force, or percentage of return on dollars invested. His example and his words stand as a beacon in the night to guide those seeking freedom.

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

President of the United States of America

DEDICATION

The 1962 TROJAN is dedicated to the ideal of
SERVICE,
with the prayer that each student of Athens High School might dedicate himself to a rich and full life through service.

Service

Cold mornings do not stop those who raise the flag in service to our country.

This homeroom collection will help to provide scholarships for needy students.

Hundreds of bowed heads give thanks and praise to God.

Teachers
know the meaning of service.

In preparation for service students assume responsibility for their mental development.

Academics...

for knowledge

ABRAHAM ALEXANDER RIBICOFF
United States Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare

Abraham Alexander Ribicoff, United States Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, is a man whose own education was hard won. His father was an immigrant factory worker and Mr. Ribicoff was born in the tenements of New Britain, Connecticut; but he was content neither to continue this life nor to let his environment discourage him. He wished to make something of himself that he might make something better of the world. And so he left his home, left it to win a Law degree from the University of Chicago in 1933.

Mr. Ribicoff's education, however, was not an end but a preparation: a preparation for service to his country and mankind. He returned to his home state and served four impressive years in Congress. He was then elected governor of Connecticut in 1954. In 1961 he was appointed by President Kennedy to the post he now holds.

To prepare for his life, Abraham Ribicoff overcame the insurmountable and accomplished the impossible. We are much more fortunate. Educational opportunities are placed before us by the dozens, ours for so little comparative effort. Take these opportunities . . . use your natural abilities . . . prepare yourself to serve.

A time exposure taken between classes portrays Athens High students as they prepare themselves for the future.

Faculty of 1961-1962

For their high quality of instruction, we will remember them. In the light of their patience and understanding, we grow strong. By their constant example of the proper use of intelligence and ability, our lives will be guided. They have shown us our faults, but never without suggestions for correcting them. They have set high standards, but always with confidence that we can uphold them and conviction that we must. They have opened our eyes to the state of the world, but have always assured us that if we work hard enough and hope high enough, our world will be a better one. Our faculty, we thank you.

MARIA BEALE FLETCHER, MISS AMERICA OF 1962

"And now, ladies and gentlemen, the Miss America of 1962." So thunderous was the applause, so bright the lights, so beautiful the girl!

Each year our nation hails the Miss America pageant as a gathering of beauty, talent, physical health, and personality. From a large representation the judges seek to name the one young lady as the epitome of all that is beauty, charm, and grace of young American womanhood.

As Maria Beale Fletcher from Asheville, North Carolina, typifies this ideal in her reign as Miss America, 1962, so do our beauties typify the loveliness of the girls of our own student body.

A.H.S. students gather to "twist" and listen to The Oxfords at the annual Homecoming dance.

Sandy is crowned intently by Devereux and Donna.

Candlelight and Roses . . .

Amid bright red roses and soft candlelight the Homecoming Queen of 1962 and her court were presented as the highlight of the seventeenth annual Homecoming dance on October 20, 1961. In the Trojan gym Miss Homecoming, Sandy Randolph, was crowned by Miss S.F.C.A., Donna Meyer, and Miss Senior Class, Devereux Cain. Miss Homecoming was escorted by Jerry Adams; Miss S.F.C.A. by Gilbert Milner and Miss Senior Class by Johnny Presnell. The crownbearer was little Tandy Russell, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Richard Russell, III, of Winder, who was escorted by Kevin Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Foster of Athens. Chuck Galis presided as Master of Ceremonies and The Oxfords provided the music for the dance.

Previously at Sanford Stadium the Trojans had disposed of mighty Gordon High School by a score of 30-7. Also, Miss Homecoming and her court were honored by the Trojan band during the half-time performance. Miss Homecoming was escorted by Sergio Rutowitsch; Miss S.F.C.A. had as her escort, Jack Glass and Miss Senior Class selected Jack Bennett.

This Homecoming night will be remembered by all as one of the most beautiful and exciting events of the school year.

Little Tandy Russell and her charming escort, Kevin Foster, captivated the audience.

Chuck Galis, Master of Ceremonies, announces the Queen and her court.

Seniors and alumni form the traditional leadout.

The Senior Class parades around the field just before the opening kick-off against Gordon High School of Atlanta.

Devereux, Sandy, and Donna wait in anticipation to go on the field.

The Queen and football Captains return to the sidelines after the "toss."

"Miss Senior Class," "Miss Homecoming," and "Miss S.F.C.A." pause with their escorts Jack Bennett, Sergio Rutowitsch, and Jack Glass before the opening of the second half against Gordon.

"I forgot what Mr. Byrnes told us to do!"

Mardi Gras Queen

Miss Marianne Gordon was crowned Campus Queen before an excited audience on January 19, 1962, in the Fine Arts Auditorium. Gowned in an elegant, deep red robe and crowned by the two Senior Beauties, Donna Meyer and Margaret Williams, Marianne exemplified the truest meaning of beauty.

Donna Wells was selected as Junior Beauty while Saranne Guy and Sharon Magill reigned as Sophomore and Freshman Beauties.

It was a gala affair and the expectation was high as a tense audience awaited for the decision of the judges. The results were finally announced by the judges and another beauty review was brought to a close.

Commander Alan B. Shepard

Commander Alan Barlett Shepard rocketed briefly across the threshold of space on May 5, 1961, and landed safely after a pulsating 5,000 mile-an-hour journey that carried him 290 miles. This history-making event brought all Americans together in a feeling of pride and accomplishment. The world hailed our success and saluted the astronaut.

Shepard was the perfect choice as a candidate for outer space. He was physically strong, mentally sharp, and psychologically sound. His ability and character are exemplary of the finest in America. This man, through discipline and determination, prepared all his life for this invaluable service to his country.

In a personal letter to the students of Athens High School, Shepard wished us well. His interest should be a stimulus to us. We should take heed, prepare, and discipline ourselves for potential greatness. As he serves, so let us serve.

DAG HAMMARSKJOLD, late Secretary General of the United Nations . . . "He died, one might say, on the battlefield of peace." Monji Slim, President of the United Nations.

Dag Hammarskjold was an actor and interpreter, a history maker and historian. In the eight years that he was Secretary General of the United Nations he led the international body with energy, wisdom, and intelligence. His leadership, whether with charm or decisive abruptness, molded the charter of the U. N. He thought not only of today, but also of tomorrow and cleared paths that will be traveled by generations to come. With unflinching faith, courage, and dedication he built his organization into a world-wide service for human betterment.

His life was filled with setbacks and disappointments, but nothing could weaken his will nor compromise his resolution to carry on his task.

As members of organizations at Athens High School we would do well to look to Dag Hammarskjold as an inspiration in our club and daily life. His service to all men everywhere challenges us to channel our efforts toward service . . . each according to his individual talents.

The Pep Club, largest AHS organization, has established a reputation of enthusiastic service in supporting AHS athletics.

Annual Staff Compiles '62 Trojan

The staff of the TROJAN has the big job of recording the events that make up a year at Athens High School.

Long hours of brainstorming, selling ads, making plans, photographing, developing, printing, copy-writing, making layouts, and proofreading go into the production of this history book for AHS.

The 1962 staff members have worked hard and have had many worries, but derived a great satisfaction from seeing their efforts realized in the finished product of the 1962 TROJAN.

The Thumb Tack Tribune Records School Activities

The Thumb Tack Tribune, the information center of AHS, reports the news along with enlightening editorials, humorous cartoons, up-to-date sports, and interesting features.

Before each issue can be circulated, there are stories to be written, ads to be sold, galleys to be proofed, pages to be made up, and numerous trips to be made to McGregor's. All of this requires long hours of hard work both in class and out. Under the supervision of Mrs. Johnston these industrious students capture life at AHS as it happens.

S.-F.C.A. Governs AHS

The Student Faculty Cooperative Association is the governing body for all of the students and administration of Athens High School. Representatives are selected from each of the homerooms and clubs to the S.F.C.A. Advisory Council that meets periodically at fifth period.

The Council is responsible for many of the school's service projects, the collection of canned goods for the maids and janitors at Christmas and collecting various funds. One extremely important function is the holding of class and S.F.C.A. elections in the spring, as well as registering the students for voting. The biggest activities of the S.F.C.A. are the Homecoming and Valentine Dances.

The six officers of the S.F.C.A. work hard in the room in front of the auditorium making plans to insure the success of the council activities. Under the leadership of Mrs. Foster and Miss Moore they serve and govern the school well.

Pep Club Grows To Largest Organization In AHS

The true school spirit of Athens High School was exemplified by the tremendous response to the Pep Club call. Over 200 students joined to arrange buses for games, plan motorcades, make posters, decorate bulletin boards and fill the halls with the spirit of the Trojans.

The Pep Club was largely responsible for the growing support and enthusiasm of AHS students at home and out-of-town games. During the 1961 football season, it grew from a small, inactive group to a mighty organization that shaped the Athens High School spirit into an all-encompassing aspect of school life.

Tommy Harrold, President; Chuck Galis, Vice-President; Linda Baily, Virginia Norton, Secretaries; and Devereux Cain and Mary Gerdine, Treasurers discuss ways to boost spirit with Mrs. Worley, Advisor.

"Be sure to buy your AHS sweatshirts on sale in the gym . . . " blared forth from the intercom announcing the main project of the Girls A Club. In its third organized year under the leadership of Mrs. Worley, the club has become prominent in the life of AHS. Money from the sweatshirt sale is donated to the American Field Service and used for other worthwhile projects. Being made up of all girls who letter in Varsity Sports or P.E. Intramurals, the A Club has grown to a record membership.

Junior Civitans Keep Busy

The Junior Civitans are always on the go with their many civic duties. To raise money for the Community Chest, they annually park cars for a Georgia football game. Besides participating in the projects of the Senior Civitans, they have many projects of their own such as visiting the nursing homes at Christmas time, attending church together once a month, and selecting a citizen of the month. Their many projects make them an asset not only to AHS, but also to the community.

Key Club Activities Increase

Providing scholarships through the CHARLES WHITE SCHOLARSHIP FUND is only one of the numerous projects of the Key Club. The club also encouraged attendance at football games with their familiar traveling loud speaker, sold TROJAN decals, and served as hosts at Career Night, the Interdivisional Training Conference of the 7th and 10th Districts, and the Decatur Key Club after the football game.

In addition to these worthy projects a Christmas party was held to help the poor and needy with the funds from the Annual Talent Show.

The Key Club is associated with the Kiwanis clubs and is made up of sophomore, junior, and senior boys with outstanding scholarship and leadership records. This year the club selected Clyde Fitzgerald as the most active member.

Beta Club Honors Scholarship

The Beta Club strives hard to live up to its purpose to promote honesty, service, and leadership. This organization is made up of members of the twelfth grade in the upper twenty-five percent of their class. Under the excellent guidance of Miss Frances Moore it has prospered for many years. Beta Club members serve as ushers for the baccalaureate and graduation exercises at the end of each year. Their other activites include the monthly meetings, attending the State Beta Club Convention, and compiling an Athens High telephone directory every other year.

Thoughtful Beta Club members consider and vote on new members.

Sigma Alpha Phi Rewards Musicians

Featured in the TROJAN for the first time, Sigma Alpha Phi was begun in December, 1959 with seven charter members. Its purposes are, "To foster an understanding and appreciation of music among young people of high school age; to encourage participation and self-confidence in the presentation of music; to promote recognition of music talent; and to take advantage of occasions." To fulfill their purpose these girls present a benefit recital to raise money for the American Field Service, sell Community Concert season tickets, and present musical programs for the PTA and other organizations. The TROJAN Staff is happy to welcome this new, but extraordinary organization to the growing list of clubs at AHS.

FHA Plans for the Future

Training future homemakers is the aim of the FHA. Beginning last fall with a workshop for the officers and committee chairmen, the year has been filled with school and community projects. Presenting sewing kits to the office, Military, and Physical Education Departments; directing games for children once a month at Dudley Park; and giving a tea for the Beauty Review contestants are but a few of their many worthwhile projects.

The meetings are filled with speakers, panel discussions, talent shows, and parties. All of these programs point toward the future when these girls will be the "Builders of homes, homes for America's future."

F.T.A. Emphasizes Education

The E. B. Mell Chapter of the Future Teachers of America club meets every month to study and examine preparation for teaching. The club projects include the senior members visiting various other schools to observe a classroom's activities, assisting teachers in the school, and promoting National Education Week. Its various activities are planned in keeping with the purpose of National F.T.A.—"to study and identify the qualities, traits, and aptitudes which are basic or related successful teaching."

Bible Club Stresses Honesty

Have you been looking for a better way to start off a school morning? Why not try joining the Bible Club in their Morning devotional each morning before school? The members under the guidance of Miss Seagraves and Mr. Barrett carry on a campaign against cheating. Their other projects include cheerbaskets and the promotion of National Bible Week. Parties are also on the club's long list of activities. The Bible Club is a welcomed organization at AHS in that it fills the needs of another phase of our lives.

Alpha Psi Chi Extends Interest in Psychology

Twenty students who have taken psychology make up the newly formed Alpha Psi Chi, which has as its purpose the study of psychology and the problems of mental health. The club meets regularly on Thursday night to discuss these problems and plan projects related to psychology.

In February, the members presented a play entitled "What's the Matter With TV?" and a variety program to make money to furnish a day room at Milledgeville State Hospital. Last fall over two tons of magazines were collected for the hospital and the movie "The Three Faces of Eve" was shown for a club project.

Hi-Y Strives for Growth

As a branch of the YMCA, the goal of the Hi-Y Club is to build young men physically, mentally, and spiritually.

Hi-Y meets every Monday night at 7:30 for movies, discussions, or occasional joint meetings with Y-Teens. Senior Hi-Y is made up of Junior and Senior boys, and the Intermediate group is composed of Freshmen and Sophomores.

The most significant activity of Hi-Y is the annual houseparty at Y camp. The projects this year included distributing stickers for the community chest and co-sponsoring a dance for the heart fund.

In addition to the annual fall and spring houseparties and the formal at Christmas, Y-Teens planned with Hi-Y the Heart Fund dance. AHS students were encouraged to vote with pennies for their choice as Heart King and Queen and all the pennies were contributed to the Heart Fund. Tom Lane and Ginger Glass were elected to reign over the jam session at Memorial Park.

Other worthy projects, a cake sale that provided canned goods for a needy family and a contribution to AFS, have helped to give Y-Teens an increased influence in the school and community.

Officers meet with Miss MacDonald and Mrs. Waters to discuss better ways of running the Library.

Library Assistants Aid Students

The purpose of the Athens High School Library Assistant's Club is to promote a better understanding of the library and the work concerned with it, to cultivate interest in library work, and to insure a feeling of cooperation among the library assistants. The members carry out their purpose by always cheerfully helping students and teachers find the books they are looking for.

Art Club Brightens Up AHS

Visitors to Athens High are greeted by original displays or delightful bulletin boards created by members of the Art Club. Besides these colorful displays, the Art Club sponsors an art exhibit around the first day of May. A.H.S. Band Rates Superior

The football team has long left the playing field for their well deserved rest, but there is still a feeling of anticipation in the air. Then it happens, from across the way over a hundred white plumes march onto the field and the anticipation turns to pride in the hearts of AHS fans and students.

This feeling of pride is not reserved for the gridiron only. Throughout the year the AHS Band, playing music from popular tunes to marches, sparks a feeling of loyalty in each student to our school, state, and country.

Whether appearing on the football field, in the gym, or in the auditorium before our students, cheering fans, or judges, they glorify our school to the highest degree.

Laura Bowen leads the band as Drum Majorette.

Mr. Byrnes directs the band at Clemson.

Majorettes Add Brilliance To Halftime Show

Sixteen lively majorettes prance down the field to begin another colorful halftime show before Athens High's faithful football fans. Their service to our school does not begin nor end in this moment of glory. They twirl and dance their way through the hot days of August; the cold nights of football games and parades; in the close, warm gym during basketball games and assemblies; and into the climactic festival in early spring. Their efforts run parallel with other service organizations at AHS.

AHS Receives Trojettes With Enthusiasm

"One, two . . . stay in step . . . left, right . . ."

These commands synchronize the girls of Athens High's bright, new drill corps, the Trojettes. Their hard work during football season included nine performances with numbers ranging from show tunes to Latin rhythms.

The vivacity and unfailing enthusiasm of these twenty-four shapely girls has served with the marching band to holster student spirit. In the first year of organization the Drill Team has proved itself to be a group of which Athens High is justly proud.

Athens High Chorus Grows In Size and Tone

Sixty-five voices of the Athens High Girls Chorus blend in harmony with music from Bach to Rogers and Hammerstein. Making appearances in assemblies, concerts, churches and the Beauty Review these girls brighten any event with their youthful voices.

Under the direction of Mr. Byrnes the chorus tries to promote deeper appreciation of all types of music as well as to bring enjoyment and pleasure to their audiences.

Barbara Bishop and Christine Booth attend Fire Safety Conference.

Two Attend Safety Conference

Fire prevention and emergency procedure were studied last August at the Junior Fire Marshal Camp held at the FHA Camp at Lake Jackson. Lectures, films, and demonstrations stirred the interest of and imparted knowledge to the delegates. The spare time was occupied by tournaments, talent nights, and dances. Barbara Bishop was elected Queen Flame and reigned over the ball held the last night and over the Georgia Fire Prevention Parade in Savannah.

Ethel Chaffin, Bunny Lowery, Christine Booth, Ann Worley, and Dee Dyer were delegates to the Teenage Traffic Safety Conference.

Six Travel To Carrolton

Last July five Athens High students headed for West Georgia College in Carrolton to the Eighth Annual Teenage Traffic Safety Conference. Here they heard lectures, participated in panel discussions and made resolutions to be sent to the legislature. Talent night, games and dances took up most of the recreation periods. The conference proved to be most enjoyable and very beneficial.

Six Attend Girls' State

Because it is so important that the youth of today understand their government and recognize their responsibility, the annual Georgia Girls' State was held at the University of Georgia June 4-10. Speakers discussed our government and city, county and state officials were elected and later installed in Atlanta.

Donna Garrett, Donna Meyer, Linda Lester, Dot Duncan, and Brenda Seagraves took the trip to Girls State.

Two From AHS Honored

To further interest in science the National Science Foundation sponsors Science institutes at various colleges and universities. Charlie Hooper and Lyn Norris attended such an institute at the University of Georgia during the summer of 1961.

Each of the participants in the group audited college science courses and did research in the field of his choice during the six week course.

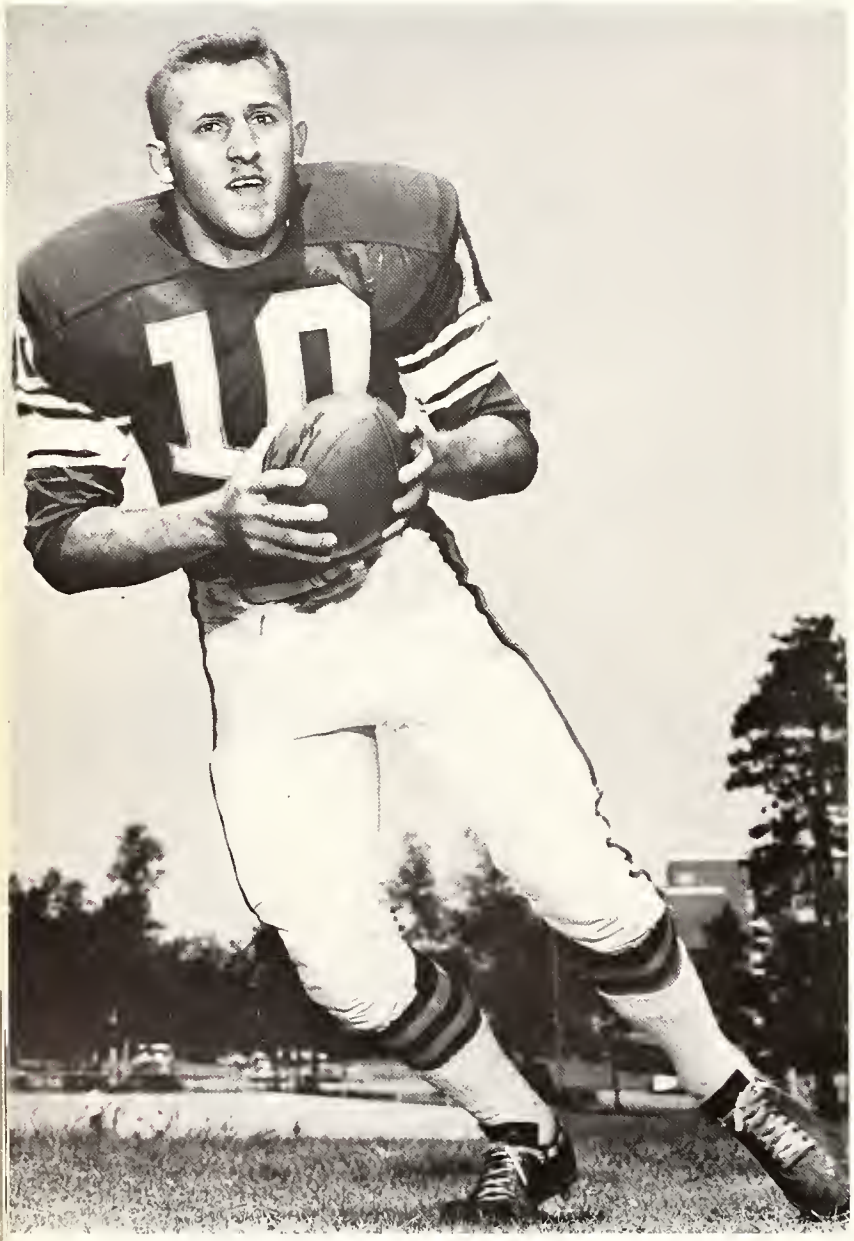
Sports . . .

for fitness



All Athens High School students and all citizens of Athens are proud to say that Francis Tarkenton was reared in the Classic City.

During his years at AHS Francis was always a leader. He was elected President of the SFCA in his senior year and lettered in four sports. In 1955, he led the Trojan football team to the State Gridiron Championship.

Francis continued this fine record at the University of Georgia. His great genius as T-quarterback won him a berth on the UPI All-American team in 1960, his senior year. This year, also, he was chosen on the Academic All-American team.

Francis signed with the newly-formed professional Minnesota Vikings in the National Football League. In his rookie year in the Pro ranks, he threw eighteen touchdown passes to set a new record and he was chosen Rookie Quarterback of the Year.

All Athenians and schoolmates of Francis expected him to be a success, and certainly he is just that. He is devoted to high ideals of service and conduct. That type of living always produces a winner. We honor him for his sports achievements and his integrity in Christian living, and thank him for his example. This life of true dedication should challenge and stimulate every student of our school.

All sports, like basketball, aid in building healthier and stronger bodies; this self-discipline in turn builds character and devotion to high standards. As our athletes represent our school, they serve as an image for younger generations and an example of true achievement.

The 1961 Trojan Football Team, boosted by tremendous school spirit, boasted an excellent 7-3 record for the season. Two of the three losses occurred early in the season before the inexperienced team had time to mature. Although this team was considered deficient in talent before the season began, determined effort and desire by the team and coaches proved to be sufficient for success.

Trojans Lose Opener; Crush Druid Hills

A misty September 8 night in Thomaston, Georgia, was the stage for the Trojans' opening game of the 1961 season. Against the mighty Rebels of Robert E. Lee, the Classic City defense held fast except for two touchdown passes. Sellers' experimental "quickie" offense, however, plagued by fumbles and interceptions, was not able to register a score. The final count, Lee 13, Athens 0, proved to be the only game of the season in which Athens did not score.

On September 15 Athens successfully opened its home season by crushing the Druid Hills Red Devils 26-0. The Devils were never in contention with their superior foes. Trojan junior halfback Woody Chastain shined as he collected 109 yards rushing, while defensive end Jerry Matthews lofted high, long, spiraling punts which were his trademark throughout the season. Guard Bob Taylor consistently carved holes in the Druid Hills line to complete the rout.

Outclassed By Avondale; Athens Scalps Indians

Trojans display their gang-tackling ability against Cross Keys.

Athens was humbled by Avondale in the Blue Devil Stadium on September 22, 34-7. Avondale collected 271 yards rushing while Athens could only muster 93 yards. Trojan Quarterback Tommy Harrold and halfback Connie Couch were among the few bright spots in the otherwise dark Classic City running and passing attack. Athens lineman Rick Aldridge made more tackles than any other man on the field.

The Trojans rallied against Cross Keys in Chamblee on September 29, crushing the Indians 32-6. Confidently leading at the half by Chastain's one yard touchdown plunge, Athens was abruptly awakened by a 92 yard kickoff return by Indian Ronnie Norman to begin the third quarter. The Classic City squad then opened up its offensive guns, and Charles Webb, Tommy Harrold, Ralph Bray, Connie Couch, and Corbin Paris collaborated to score 26 points in the latter half. This win inspired the team to a six game winning streak.

AHS Halts Kaydets; Buries Bulldogs

On October 5 Ralph Bray put on a show for the Sanford Stadium audience by collecting fourteen points and leading Athens to a 20-7 win over the Marist Kaydets. After the game AHS coach Sellers remarked. "Bray is the best halfback in the state." A steadily improving Athens team took advantage of the many errors the Kaydets committed to bring on the victory.

The Trojans played one of their best games of the year when they blanked the favored Decatur Bulldogs 21-0 on October 13. Sellers had evidently taught the AHS Roughnecks the merits of possession football. for quarterback Tommy Harrold kept the team moving consistently with brilliant passing and proficient ball handling. The front line stoppered each Bulldog offensive attempt and spearheaded every Athens offensive action.

Homecoming Brings Victory

Athens' Homecoming game on October 20 against the Gordon Generals was a pleasing one to the partisan crowd in Sanford Stadium, the Trojans winning 30-7. Even though the underdog Generals played superior to most expectations, they were no match for Harrold's steady passing to ends Charles Webb and Ronnie Bowie and the relentless threat of halfbacks Bray and Chastain. Kickoff man Jerry Adams and extra point specialist Ralph Bray were kept busy throughout the encounter.

Clyde Fitzgerald holds as Ralph Bray kicks an extra point.

Charles Webb makes a leaping pass reception to the dismay of a Smyrna back.

Trojans Smash Smyrna; Blank Southwest DeKalb

The Trojans scored over twenty points for the fifth straight contest against Campbell of Smyrna in Sanford Stadium on October 26. Athenians Harrold, Chastain, and Bray again accounted for scoring in the 21-2 win over the Panthers. The Campbell eleven found themselves either blocked or tackled by linemen such as, Virg Yeakey and Jerry Adams or linebackers Roger Alexander and Jimmy Cash. With the Bray-Chastain duo producing over 200 yards rushing and the Trojan defense as sound as usual, the Panthers were forced to submit to defeat.

On November 3 Athens pacified another group of Panthers. This time the victim was Southwest DeKalb, and the score was 14-0. Both touchdowns came after fumble recoveries by Charles Webb and defensive star Gilbert Milner. Chastain and Bray each stepped into the Panther end zone, while Bray toed both extra points. DeKalb never posed an offensive threat to the synthesis of a 7-2 Trojan record thus far.

Edged By Gainesville

The Trojans lost a heart-breaking game to the Gainesville Red Elephants 20-14 to conclude the season. The upset-minded Athens eleven came exceedingly close to victory, but the Pachyderms, led by all-state Quarterback Preston Ridlehuber, survived to complete an unbeaten Gainesville season. Following a Chastain Touchdown, fullback Carl Gilbert scooted 58 yards to give Athens the lead 14-6, which had dwindled to 14-13 at the half.

The scoreboard remained unchanged until late in the last quarter, when the Red Elephants scored with 58 seconds left. The Trojans made a final desperate attempt to score which sadly ended five yards short of the end zone when time ran out. Athens thus ended a 7-3 season for the 1961-62 edition of the Trojan Football Team.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Ten of the most talented, cheerful, and best looking girls in Athens High School are the cheerleaders — morale builders and supporters of the Athens High Trojans. Always on hand at every football and basketball game, through wind or rain, their tireless efforts have helped to make the spirit of Athens High more genuine and enthusiastic.

Their cheers are a boost to the players and student body. Their terrific pep rallies have been the impetus for many a victory.

Thanks to these girls, their dedication and loyalty, Athens High sports have been completely and enthusiastically supported.

Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Defense

Robert Strange McNamara, our nation's Secretary of Defense, is the perfect example of a contemporary business leader and a true illustration of unselfish dedication to his country. His personal sacrifice in giving up one of the highest paid and most highly respected positions in the business world to serve in this tedious and pressured position on the cabinet is a great example of unselfish devotion to the American way of life.

McNamara was asked to become Secretary of Defense five weeks after having been elected President of the Ford Motor Company. He could gain little financially but the challenge to serve was the stimulus which prompted him to accept the grave responsibilities for our nation's defense.

A personality marked by boundless energy and tenacious determination enable Secretary McNamara to cope with the problems concerning nuclear testing, space, and military strategy that face our nation daily. A shrewd intellectual, his wide range of interest and abilities qualify him for the responsibilities of either business or government. His training and education in business management have enabled him to move from one highly technical field to another.

His capabilities combined with sincere dedication make Secretary of Defense McNamara a vivid example of the type of person Athens High students can become. We can work to make our lives valuable to our country. Our lives, like his, can become symbols of the kind of service President Kennedy has called for, "And so, my fellow Americans, ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country . . ."
